Dear Parents,

Please find attached work and ideas that will support your child's learning in the next few weeks.

Included is a daily diary to write a simple sentence about their day, some sheets for the children to practise key learning objectives and some ideas for online learning.

There are many educational websites that are offering resources for free during this time including

Purple Mash (children have log-ins)

Please use your log-on (in your reading record books) and use the mini mash site to explore all the content available

Twinkl

Twinkl is a vast educational resource. It is being offered free for this period of time. In order to access, follow these steps:

Step 1: Go to www.twinkl.co.uk/offer

Step 2: Enter the code you have received, or CVDTWINKLHELPS if you have not yet been given a code.

Use the search option to find suitable resources (for year group and subject). There is also a PARENTS' HUB with ideas.

BBC IPlayer is another great resources, use Alphablocks for daily phonics practise and Numberblocks for counting and the number system.

If any of the work sent home proves tricky please don't just carry on, either simplify it or carry on to another piece. Equally if your child completes it quickly, try to think of ways to extend it further. Remember, the children are only little and we wouldn't expect them to be sitting at an activity for any longer than 10-20 minutes at a time.

Our next topic is 'Do all Creepy Crawlies Crawl?' so maybe spend some time outdoors and go on bug hunts, and look for different habitats

The TTS download within our home learning section gives you lots of ideas for creative things to do at home.

Above all use this time to spend quality time together. Playing board games and cooking together can be just as educational. Learn 3D shape names by junk modelling, weight and measures by baking together, be creative! Sit together and read, read, read, that really is the best you can do!
